MANY IMPORTANT GAMES CARDED ON THIS WEEK'S GRIDIRON BILLS

Last Week's Contests Brought Little Sunshine to Big Kansas Camps.

5,000 mile trip by the University of Nebraska team to clash with the Oregon Aggies; a meeting of the Missouri Tigers and the Ames conquerors of the Jayhawkers; a battle for place in the Kansas conference by Washburn and Baker; and a clash between the fighting Aggie Wildcats and the Emporia Normal teachers-these are a few of the many features on this week's big football card thruout the country.

With players sufficiently seasoned to indicate their real ability and with all of the coaches familiar with the possibilities of their organizations, this week's clashes will furnish more real dope for the dopesters than any that have been played since the season pass. With a man of this type in the back field, almost anything in the way of the camp of the segment consideration by the followers of the oval game because they will furnish figures with which important comparisons can be made. The Baker-Washburn game will clear upseveral hazy spots in the Kansas conference dope, the Ames-Missouri battle will indicate some of the hings that may be, expected when the Tigers and Jayhawkers clash, and Washburn followers will watch the Aggie-Emporia Normal contest with a view of getting a line on both of these teams for the battles the Ichabods have with both teams.

Below will be found a list of the

Last Saturdy's games brought very little sunshine to the camps of the big Kansas schools. While the Aggies made a very good showing against. Wheraska, holding the Huskers to a 14 to 6 score, at the same time this was not as good as the more enthusiastic supporters of the Farmer Wild-big Kansas schools. While the Aggles made a very good showing against Nebraska, holding the Huskers to a 14 to 0 score, at the same time this was not as good as the more enthusiastic supporters of the Farmer Wildouts had expected and the Clevenger team's failure to show more consistent offensive tactics made it certain that the title of the Valley conference will again repose in Lincoln unless the days of miracles return.

Gloom at K. U.

Clouds of gloom again engulfed K.-U. Saturday when the lowa Aggies de-feated the Jayhawkers 13 to 0 in a Clouds of gloom again engulied K.U. Saturday when the lowa Aggres defeated the Jayhawkers 13 to 0 in a game that was a disappointment from a Jayhawker standpoint in every phase and feature. The Olcott men showed nothing except incompetence and inefficiency in their stand at Ames. Not only did the Lawrence lads fail to develop anything that resembled a punch, but they even failed to produce even a resisting defense, and most of the dopesters now admit that they are practically out of the running so far as conference honors are concerned.

There were few Kansas conference games Saturday, most of them having been played the day before, but down in the Sterling stubblefields Cooper college and Bethany put on a real duel, the Weedes winning over the Swedes by the narrow margin of one point. Neither team was able to score in the first three periods, but in the carly part of the final quarter Captain Olson led in a desperate attack that gave Bethany a touchdown. However, failure to kick goal cost the Lindshorg mer, the game, as a little later in the quarter Cooper plowed thru and Gray kicked goal, making the final score 7 to 6.

Ottawa University, playing Midland at Atchison, won by the score of 14 to 9. The feature of this game was a prize "boner" pulled by the Midland tham Jayers did not cover the ball and an Ottawa man dropped on it behind the Midland goal line for the easiest touchdown that has been made on Kansas soil this season.

INSIDE GRIDIRON TIPS BY CHARLES E. BRICKLEY.

It is just as essential for a footbail team to have a good kicker as it is for Saturday—Baker university against Washburn, at Topeka; Emporia Normal against Kansas Aggies, at Manhattan; Missouri against Ames, at Columbia; Nebraska against Oregon Aggies, at Portland; Friends against Of course, the ideal situation is to have men like Mahan, Le Gore, Driggs or Tibbott, who can kick, run and University of Illinois against Ohio State, at Urbana.

The Sooner lads went down at last Before the Kendall crew, And the Suckers of Old Zuppke Have met their musters, too. But those Huskers of Nebraska Go on and on the same, And their rivals now all wonder When will they lose a game?

Undoubtedly Coach Clevenger's Aggles have nothing to be ashaned of in their showing against Nebraska. They did remarkably well, most people believe, but it is hard to find pleasure in defeat, even under circumstances like this.

The defeat that Bennie Owen's Sooners suffered at the hands of Henry Kendali was the first they had tasted in two years, and the 15 to 3 defeat Colgate hung on Illinois was the first for the Illinois since 1913.

"The fact that K. U. is losing games and star players every few days indicates that there is something radically wrong on Mt. Oread." an old university student remarked today. And so it would seem.

It is reported that K. U. players didn't even know their own signals in the game against Ames. If this was so, the blame must rest on the shoulders of the coaches, And the coaches will ultimately bare the blame for all the short comings, whether they deserve or not.

This week the Jayhawkers will have no game and they will be given plenty of time to get into shape for the Aggie battle next week. However, they will have to whip up considerably if they expect to make things interesting for the Wildcats.

Dopesters can hardly figure out how Chicago could lose to a school like Carle, tou and then the very next week beat a Sunday afternoon at Garfield park by team like Judiana has, 22 to 0. But the Joe Kalimann of West Bend, Ind., probably thought the Indiana chap who dove into a creek and killed a thirteen-pound carp with his head was a piker. Anyway, Joe showed him up the other day. He dove into Cedar Lake, near his home, and put a twenty-two pound pickerel out of business. Friends rescued the stunned Joe and the dend pickerel (according to reports from West Bend).

"Silent" Martin Also Has Mute for a Manager.

But He Gets By Because He's Real Scrapper.

BY FRANK G. MENKE.

BY FRANK G. MENKE.

New York, Oct. 16.—Some battlers think that one of the essentials for success is to have a manager who can yell orders from the corner of the ring. "Silent" Martin isn't of that sort, simply because it wouldn't do him any good if he did have a "noisy" manager which he hasn't.

Martin is a deaf mute, and so is F. W. Meinken, who guides his destinies. Earlier in his career Martin had a talkative manager, but he found him a liability instead of an arset. Of course, a manager who can talk is a handy person to have around when a bum fighter wants a little publicity. But Martin decided that actions speak louder than words. So he hired Meinken and they have lived happily ever since.

When Martin is in the ring Meinken when Martin is in the ring alemen is in his corner. If the manager thinks it necessary to advise a bit, he wiggles a few of his fingers and presto! Martin understands and goes right out and follows said fingered right out and tonows advice.

Martin, by the way, is the only mute who ever gained any real prominence in the squared circle. He was quite generally pooh-poohed when first he made his entry in the professional ranks, but none of the middleweights is pooh-poohing him very much now. In fact, a lot of them are taking to the storm cellars when Martin looms up in the offing.

THEY ATE HIS FISH

City Inspectors Could Find Nothing the Matter With Restaurant.

He was new in that business classified as restaurant keeper, only recently having purchased one of the well-known cafes in this city. A customer wandered in this morning and ordered fish. Fish, the customer received, and a waiter hovered near to supply further wants.

The customer sampled the fish. Then he brought his fist down on the table in a way that rattled the dishes. "This house," he roared, "had ought to be pinched. This fish is stale. It would be a libel on whale meat. I refuse to eat it."

The second plate proved no more satisfactory than the first. The customer threw his napkin on the flowand started for the door, vowing howas going to report the cafe to the health department.

The propristor examined the fish again, then placed a plate of it and several side dishes on a tray and marched up the street to the city hall.

Clyde Thesner was just getting pencils and papers out of sight in his d.sk, preparatory to going home for dinner, when the restaurant keeper appeared in the door of the health offices with his try.

"Like fish?" he inquired of Tresner.

"Sure." He was new in that business class
